PACIFIC BUSINESS COLLEGE,
MECHANICS' INSTITUTE,
POST STREET, Between Montgomery & Kerney
SAN FRANCISCO.

The importance of a thorough and practical business training for those who contemplate entering the mercantile profession, is too well known to require much comment. Without such knowledge, the young merchant will become involved in many embarrassments which might otherwise be avoided. The youthful aspirant will find himself surrounded by inextricable difficulties, both in seeking a situation, and in the discharge of its duties after employment is obtained. To have received instruction at a mercantile college, endorsed by the leading merchants of the city, is more effective in winning the favor and confidence of a business firm, than all the letters of introduction which friends can give. The maintains a reputation for thoroughness and systematic training far surpassing that of any other similar institution on the Pacific coast. Most of the leading merchants of this city have employed graduates from this College, and bear testimony to the practical efficiency of the course here prescribed. The system of actual practice embraces all the varied operations of real business. A Ladies' Department has lately been added to this popular institute. This spirit of enterprise cannot fail to draw forth the well-wishes of the public.

We the undersigned, merchants and business men of San Francisco, California, are at the present time, employing men who have completed the prescribed course of study at the Pacific Business College, and we take pleasure in stating that we have found them well posted in accountantship and the general principles of business, showing conclusively that they have been subjected to a thorough drill in those important matters, by experienced and competant instructors.

We cheerfully recommend the College as being in our opinion, an institution of intrinsic merit, and well worthy of the confidence and support or the community.

A LITERARY CURIOSILY.

[The following is one of the most remarkable compositions ever published. It evinces an ingenuity of arrangement that we have never witnessed before. Explanation: The initial capitals spells, "My boast is the glorious cross of Christ." The words in italics when read from top to bottom and from bottom to top, form the Lord's prayer coplmete:]

Make known the gospel truths, our Father King.
Yield us Thy grace, our Father from above;
Bless us with hearts which feelingly can sing,
"Our life Thou art for ever God of love!"
Assuage our grief in love for Christ we pray,
Since the bright Prince of Heaven and glory died
Took all our sins and hallowed the display,
Infant be ing, first a man, and then was crucified.
Stupendous God! Thy grace and power make known.
In Jesus' name let all the world rejoice;
New labors in Thy heavenly kingdom own
That blessed kingdom for thy saints the choice.
How vilest come to Thee is all our cry,
Enemies to *Thy*self, and all that's Thine,
Graceless our will, we live for vanity,
Loathing Thy very being, evil in design,
O God! Thy will be done from earth to Heaven.
Reclining on the gospel let us live,
In earth from sin delivered and forgiven,
Oh! as Thyself but teach us to forgive!
Unless it's power temptation doth destroy,
Sure is our fall into the depths of woe—
Carnal in mind, we've not a glimpse of joy
Raised against Heaven; in us no hope can flow.
Oh! give us grace and lead us on Thy way;
Shine on us with Thy love, and give us peace;
Self and this sin that rise against us slay;
Oh! grant each day our trespasses may cease.
Forgive our evil deeds that oft we do,
Convince us daily of them to our shame;
Help us with heavenly bread, forgive us, too,
Recurrent sins, and we'll adore thy name;
In Thy forgive ness we as saints can die,
Since for us and our trespasses so high,
Thy Son, our Saviour, died on Calvary.

ARABIAN MODE OF TAMING HORSES.—The following is said to be the Arabian mode and is the same as has been sold throughout the country at from $1 to $5. The horse castor is a wart or excresence which grows on every horse's fore-legs and generally on the hind-legs. It has a peculiar, rank, musty smell, and is easily pulled off. The amomniacal effluvia of the horse seems peculiarly to concentrate in this part, and its very strong odor has a very great attraction for all animals—especially canine, and the horse himself.

For the oil of cumin, the horse has an instinctive passion—both are original natives of Arabia, and when the horse scents the odor, he is instinctively drawn towards it.

The oil of rhodium possesses peculiar properties. All animals seem to cherish a fondness for it, and it exercises a kind of subduing influence over them.

The direction given for taming horses is as follows:

Procure some horse castor and grate fine, also get some oil of rhodium and oil of cumin, and keep the three separate in air-tight bottles.

Rub a little of the oil of cumin upon your hands, and approach the horse on the windward side, so that he can smell the cumin. The horse will let you come up to him without any trouble.

Immediately rub your hand gently on the horse's nose, getting a little of the oil on it. You can then lead him anywhere.

Give him a little of the castor on a piece of loaf sugar, apple or potato.

Put nine drops of the oil of Rhodium into a lady's silver thimble, holding it between the thumb and middle finger of your right hand, with the fore-finger stopping the thimble, to prevent the oil from running out whilst you are opening the mouth of the horse.

As soon as you have opened the horse's mouth tip the thimble over upon his tongue, and he is your servant. He will follow you like a pet dog.

Ride fearlessly and promptly, with your knees pressed to the horse's side, and your toes turned in and heels out; then you will always be on the alert from a shy or sheer from the horse and he can never throw you.

Then, if you want to teach him to lie down, stand on his right or left side; have a couple of leather straps about six feet long; strap up his left leg with one of them round his neck; strap the other end of it over his shoulders; hold it in your hand and when you are ready tell him to lie down, at the same time gently, firmly, and steadily pulling on the strap, touching him lightly on the knee with a switch. The horse will immediately lie down. Do this a few times and you can make him lie down without the straps.

He is now your pupil and your friend. You can teach him anything, only be kind to him, be gentle. Love him and he will love you. Feed him before you do yourself, shelter him well, groom him yourself, keep him clean, and at night always give him a good bed, at least a foot deep.

In the winter season, don't let him stand out a long time without sheltering or covering; for remember that the horse is a native of a warm climate, and in many respects, his constitution is as tender as a man's.

THE DEAD SEA.—Turning south, an hour's ride over a sandy loam—without a shrub or leaf or blade of grass, nothing but the bare earth, under our horses' feet or around us, over hundreds of acres—bring us to the Dead Sea. I have read wonderful accounts of this body of water—that its waters were always calm, no ripple on its surface; that no bird could fly across it; that nothing green could flourish on its shores; that over it ever was an atmosphere of gloom. Not quite thus was the picture to our eyes.—Waves were rolling on the beach. Reeds and canes grow wherever the roots can reach the moisture beneath the soil. The plain over which we rode was verdureless, because rainless except at this season of the year. A few showers fall in winter, but not in sufficient quantity to support vegetable life. Fish are brought down from the Jordan. We saw one near the entrance of the river, but the water is too salt and contains too much asphaltum to support life.—There is an air of gloom, but it arises from the calmness and stillness. No sounds break upon the year except the splashing of the waves and the chafing of the pebbles upon the beach. The gorges and deflies of the mountains are dark and gloomy. The mountains themselves are bleak, bare and desolate, and we gaze upon them through a hazy light, with dim shadows flitting past, thrown down to earth by passing clouds. Besides these, no one standing on its shore can forget the history of the destruction of the cities of the plain. Up through this atmosphere rose the smoke of their burning.—This was the scene where Divine Justice could no longer put up with human wickedness. And so the dreariness and desolation, the abscence of life, the aspects of nature and the facts of history combine to give it a gloom peculiarly its own.—"Carelton," Boston Journal.

PRIMITIVE CLIMATE OF THE EARTH.—The primitive climate of the earth was greatly richer in carbonic acid than the present, and therefore unfit for the respiration of the warm-blooded animals. The agency of plants in purifying this atmosphere was long ago pointed out, and the great deposits of fossil fuel derived from the decomposition of this excess of carbonic acid by the ancient vegetation. In this connection the vegetation of former periods presents the phenomenon of tropical plants growing within the polar circle. Pros. T. Sterry Hunt considers as unsatisfactory the ingeneous hypothesis proposed to account for the warmer climate of ancient times, and thinks the true solution of the problem is to be found in the constitution of the early atmosphere, when considered in the light of Dr. Tyndall's researches on radiant heat. He has found that the presence of a few hundredths of carbonic acid gas in the atmospoere, while offering almost no obstacle to the passage of the solar rays, would suffice to prevent almost entirely the loss by radation of obscure heat, so that the surface of the land, beneath such an atmosphere, would become like a vast orchard house, in which the conditions of climate necessary to a luxuriant vegetation would be extended even to the polar regions.

FARMING.—The "Fat Contributor," delivered a lecture on farming, in which he said: "I can imagine what vigor is imparted to the frame, and what strength to the muscles, by reclining in the shade and watching the mowers as they gayly swing their threshing machines, and then, what an appetite one must acquire for the noontime lunch, by observing the merry reapers at work digging their wheat, and raking and blading their potatoes and their apples."

BILLY JENKINS TROUBLES THE FIRST NIGHT OF HIS MARRIAGE.

Billy Jenkins was a modest man, and although he had mingled with the world at barbecues, shooting matches, bar-rooms and many of the et cetera places where men may occasionally be found—yet he was modest, very, whenever placed in the company of ladies. He trembled when a pretty girl would speak to him, and felt like a culprit at the stand when he was called upon to see Miss So-and-so home. Bill could never explain or account for his singular timidity. He would sing, frolic, and was wild as a rover among men, but the sight of a petticoat would unnerve him instantly.

Lucy Ann Liggons, a young widow, had "set her cap" for Bill, and she was determined to "have him or die" Bill, to tell the truth, loved Lucy, and was as mis-rable out of her company as he was bashful in it—but to popping the question that was impossible. Lucy knitted purses, hemmed handkerchiefs, worked shirt bosoms, and gave them to Jenkins, as well as several gold rings, but Bill would not propose. Lucy declared to him repeatedly that she loved him, and was miserable when he was absent from her, and her happiness depended upon being his wife—but Bill was dumb. At last Lucy was determined that he should hear thunder, and then, after some preliminary soft talk on her part, she very affectionately said:

"Bill, my dear, when are you going to ask me to marry you? For I want to get my dress ready."

Bill fainted on the spot, and hartshorn and water were applied for half an hour before he was restored.

"What has been the matter, Lucy?"

"Oh, nothing much; you fainted when you were about to ask me to marry you—but I told you yes—and, oh, how happy we will be when we are married! I will love you so dearly; and as you said next Tuesday, why I am willing the wedding should be then—my dear Billy, how I do love you."

"I am willing, Miss Lucy," was all that Jenkens could articulate, while Lucy almost kissed him into fits. What a glorious victory!

Here we ought to stop, but justice to our narrative requires that we should proceed to the final.

The "next Tuesday" had come, and Jenkins was trembling at the approach of evening—something seemed to harrow up his mind, and to no friend would he communicate his deep distress.

"You are not afraid, certainly, to go up and get married; why, to marry such a beautiful, charming and intellectual being as Mrs. Liggons, I should wish that time to fly like upon the electric telegraph line. Cheer up, Jenkins, and be a man."

"Oh," replied Bill, "well don't know what distresses me. I can go up and get married, that is easy enough, but there is something—I know it—I feel it—there is one thing that I am well satisfied I never will be able to do, unless Lucy will assist."

"Explain your self," replied his friend, "and if I can with propriety, I will endeavor to render you comfortable."

But Jenkins could not explain, he dared not; it was his timidity, he saw the [illegible] before him, and he knew he could not pass it, but he was determined to get married and trust to luck and Lucy.

The night came and they were married. All were merry; the laugh, the chat, the song and the dance, made up a lively party—then commenced a dispersion, and at one o'clock Bill Jenkins was left solitary and alone in the hall. Lucy Ann had retired, and her bridesmaide were of in a distant room. Bill Jenkins' waiters and friends had gone home with the ladies. Bill was now at a point where he thought his firmness would fail him. His situation was a peculiar one. He was not certain which was Lucy's room, although he had been told—and even had he known he could not go to it.

The watchman cried "past two oclock," and yet Jenkins was still alone, and apparently engaged in perusing an old almanac, which by chance had been left in his coat pocket. An old female darky, who resided in the family, had been prevailed upon by the ladies, who noticed Jenkins' bashfulness, to show him his bed-room, and she accordingly introduced herself to him in as modest a style as she well could.

"Mr. Jenkins," said she, "it's past two o'clock."

"Oh yes, I know it; I am going home in a few moments. Old woman, where's my hat?"

"It's in Miss Lucy's room, sir—you can get it there, if you will go in. Mr Jenkins, why don't you go to bed? Miss Lucy is there waiting for you—don't be so modest—the ladies will laugh at you. Come with me and I will show you the room, for I want to put out the lights, lock up the house and go to bed."

The old woman seized hold of Jenkins and pulled him along until she got him out of the hall, and his gaze was fixed for a moment upon the entry door; but she was determined to put him into Miss Lucy's room, and after violent efforts succeeded. There he stood with the knob of the door in his hand, but the darkey had been smart enough to lock the door outside. Lucy pretended for sometime to be asleep; but that sort of gammon would not answer—at last she said:

"My dear Billy, what is the matter?"

"I want my hat!" screamed Jenkins, and Lucy knowing his modesty, leaped out of bed, and after sometime Bill went to bed with his clothes and boots on—and trembled till morning, and at daybreak was among the missing.

How Jenkins managed matters and things in general, can be known only to his dear Lucy Ann.

Reader, strange as it may appear, there are Jenkinses all over the world; but the freemasorry of wedded life draws the curtains before the eyes of the uninitiated. Going to bed on the first night after marriage, must be among the delicate situations of life.

THE WHITE MAN'S PARTY.—We clip the following from the Oregon Sentinel. That Irisman knew what he was talking:

We met a son of Erin a few days ago seeking work. He had just come from California. He gave a lamentable account of the scarcity of labor in that State, and after unbosoming himself freely, declared that it was the work of the Democratic party. "Begorra," said he, "they tould us they were the white man's party, and would dhrive ivery divil of a Chinaman out of the country if they got the election." "They got it, and look at them now." "The devil the one's left, but by the powers it is faster and thicker they're coming; and it's iverywhere you'll see the yellow mugs of the dirty haythens crewdin the white men and dhriven them out of the country, instead." "It's great things the Dimicrats have done for the country; there's ould Haight, that we thought would be a white man—goes to dhrinkin and toastin and rollickin wid the rat-atin bastes, and axin them to lave China and come here, and welcom; bedad may be ti's voters he'd be makin of thim the scandelous ould bilk?" "It's badly sould, the poor man is," continued he, "when he votes with a party that's crowdin him out with the nayger and the Chinamen, and God forgive if Democracy iver gets my vote again wid its humbugary." "Shure, it was thim that brought the yellow divils to the coast, and when the Republicans wanted to tax the divil out of thim, the Dimocrats stopped it, for they wanted cheap labor." "By my soul it's a purty white man's party Dimocracy is, and it and me's done." We parted with him, feeling satisfied that the eyes of another working man had been opened, and satisfied also every Dimocratic victory would eventually open the eyes of thousands more.

A MILE or so from town a man met a boy on horseback crying with cold.

"Why don't you get down and lead the horse?" said the man, "that's the way to get warm."

"It's a b-b-borrowed horse, and I'll ride him if I f-f-freeze!" whimpered the boy.

A MINISTER traveling through the provinces some years ago, asked the old lady on whom he called, what she thought of the doctrine of total depravity. "Oh, I think it a good doctrine, if people would live up to it."

A TRAVELING life insurance agent applied to a Texan to "take out a policy; but the Texan replied, "a fellow's life is confounded uncertain in this community, it ain't worth insuring."

A MAN in Connecticut having advertised his wife for "leaving his bed and board," the fugacious spouse retorted as follows: "I went away from the lazy lout to earn my board, and the bed belongs to my mother."

☞ Handsome ladies are delusions worth hugging.

WOMAN.—The state of society may always be determined by ascertaining the condition of woman. When she is the companion, and her relation to him that of equality, then we may be sure that a high point of moral and rational development has been retained. The tardiness of civilization has always been chilled by the complaints of woman. She represents the higher sentiments, disinterested love, the benevolent affection, religion and delicate sensibility, the divinest part of humanity, that part of our nature, advance toward the realization of which, in practical life, constitutes true progress.

The treatment of women indicates in what estimation man holds the most beautiful portion of his own being. When men are brutes, women will be slaves. The lords of creation may declare that the daughters of Eve are inferior to themselves, but such a declaration only shows their own weakness and defects. He who places a light estimate on things of highest worth, proclaims his own ignorance and want of judgment. Man through the frailty of woman publishes his low estimate of all that is holiest in the relations of life. Strike out from existence all that is suggested by the words "mother," "daughter," "sister," "wife," and no man would care to live.

One-half of humanity is man; another, yet equal half, is woman. He who speaks lightly of woman curses the hand that supported him in the hour of helplessness, pronounces a malediction upon the fair young being that with mingled reverence and trust calls him father, utters blasphemy against the Being who has filled with disinterested affection the bosom of her whose heart beats with blood kindered to his own, and returns hatred for love to her who has bestowed upon him a greater gift than all wealth can buy. He who knows woman in all these relations, however, rarely speaks evil of her.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—In a New Hampshire town there lived an ignorant, irreligious, worthless family, Ransom by name, no member of which had been seen inside a church within the "memory of the oldest inhabitant." The village pastor, after years of failure, at length "almost persuaded" two of the youngest scions to promise attendance for one Sabbath, but the fear that they would be made the subjects of some personal remarks still deterred them. They were in great terror lest they should be publicly upbraided with their misdoings, and called to account for their wickedness. After much exertion their fears were quieted, and on the following Sunday the eyes of the good pastor's congregation were astonished at the unwonted presence of the aforesaid Ransoms. All went well until the reading of the second hymn, which was the familiar

"Blow ye the trumpet, blow!"

Imagine the effect when, at the end of the line,

"Return ye ransom'd sinners home,"

the elder of our heroes seized his hat, and with long strides toward the door, shouted: "Come along home Bill! I knowed they'd be flinging at us if we came here!"

YOU SHAN'T SLEEP WITH YE.—Mr Pilkerson a small farmer in Pennsylvania, was drafted in the army. The wife, though she possessed but a small stock of general information, is one of the best of conjugal partners, and she was much troubled at the thought of parting with her husband. As she was engaged in scrubbing off the door steps, a rough looking man walked up and thus addressed her:

"I hear, madam, that your husband has been drafted."

"Yes, sir, he was," answered Mrs. Pilkerson, "though dear knows there's few men that couldn't better be spared from their families."

"Well, madam, I have come to offer myself as a substitute for him."

"A what?" asked Mrs. Pilkerson with some excitement.

"I am willing to take his place," said the stranger.

"You take the place of my husband and sleep with me—you nasty, dirty wretch! I'll teach you to insult a distressed woman in that way, you vagabond!" said she as she discharged the dirty soapsuds in the face of the discomfitted substitute who took to his heels just in time to escape having his head broken with the bucket.

GIVE THANKS FOR WHAT YOU GET.—There is a rule at Oberlin College that no student shall board at any house where prayers are not regulary said each day. A certain man fitted up a boarding house and filled it with boarders, but forgot until the 11th hour the prayer proviso. Not being a praying man himself, he looked around for one who was. At length he found one—a meek young man from Trumbull county—who agreed to pay for his board in praying. For a while all went smoothly; but the boarding master furnished his table so poorly that the boarders began to grumble and leave, and the other morning the praying boarder actually struck. Something like the following dialogue occurred:

Landlord—Will you ask a blessing, Mr. Mild?

Mild—No, sir, I will not.

Landlord—why not, Mr. Mild?

Mild—It don't pay, sir. I can't pray on such victuals as these. And unless you bind yourself in writing to set a better table than you have for the last three weeks, nary another pray do you get out of me.

EVERYBODY'S WIFE.—The abominable custom of exposing too much of the female person, now so prevalent in fashionable society, is being severely ridiculed by a portion of the press. It might puzzle even an imaginative writer to concentrate in a few words more sneering but grieved bitterness than that expressed many years ago, during a temporary reign of disease now prevalent, by a certain husband who was accosted with a question while looking on a dance in which his very decollete wife was figuring: "What very handsome and magnificently formed lady is that yonder in the green and pearls?" asked one of the other guests, an acquaintance of the husband, but a stranger to his family. "That? Oh, that is my wife: or, at least, I thought that she was up to to-day. But by the Prophet! I am inclined to think, by the way she dresses to-night, that she is the wife of every gentleman that is in the room.

"THOU SHALT NOT SMOKE."—A "resolution" having been introduced into the Methodist General Conference condemning the use of tobacco and shutting out from the ministry all persons addicted to the weed in any form, the New York Tribune comments thus: "The liberal and enlightened spirit of that proposal cannot be too warmly commended. As soon as it passes, we trust the Rev. Bingham, who offered it, will draw up an Eleventh Commandment to the effect that "Thou shalt not smoke," and will take immediate measures to close the Kingdom of Heaven against all sinners who take snuff, drink tea or coffee, play whist, checkers, croquet, or base ball, read Scott's novels, or smile on Sunday."

A BIG SNAKE.—An Indian came to a certain Indian Agent in the northern part of Iowa, to procure some whisky for a warrior who had been bitten by a rattlesnake. "Four quarts!" repeated the agent with much surprise. "Much as that?" "Yes," replied the Indian, "four quarts—snake very big."

☞ A Mother in the habit of asking her children before they retired at night what they had done to make others happy found her two twin daughters silent. The question was repeated.

"I can't remember nothing good all this day, dear mother, only one of my school mates was happy because she had gained the head of the class, and I smiled on her and ran to kiss her; so she said I was good. That's all dear mother."

The other spoke more timidly.

"A little girl who sat with me on the bench at school has lost a little brother. I saw that while she studied her lesson she hid her face in her bosom and wept. I felt sorry and laid myself on the same book and wept with her. Then she looked up and was comforted, and put her arms around my neck; but I do not know why she said I had done her good."

"Come to my arms, my darlings," said the mother; "to rejoice with those that rejoice and weep with those that weep, is to obey our blessed Redeemer."

☞ A year or two ago a man keeping a clothing store trusted a miner to some $250 worth of goods. The miner "busted up," and went off to Montana or some other region without so much as bidding good-bye. After a year's absence, he one day walked into the store and told him he was owing him a bill, which he wished to pay. At first the man did not recognize him, but at last remembered all. He had long since considered the bill lost, and was much surprised to see his old customer back and ready to pay the debt. The full amount was counted out to him, and even then he could hardly believe that the money he had given up as lost was before him, and was quite over come with faint realization of the fact. Sweeping the money into his drawer, he placed his elbow on the counter, and took a good, long, square look at the man who had given it to him. "Py grashus," said he, "you are the most honest man I ever did see! Come across mit me to the saloon, and I shakes for de lager!"

☞ "Buy any butter here?" said a country customer as he walked into a dry goods shop and looked much like a character who knew a great deal more of himself than he cared to tell.

"No, sir," replied the merchant, "we don't wish to buy any."

"Want to buy any eggs?"

"No, sir; we keep a dry goods store here."

"So! Well, then, perhaps you would like to buy some chickens—fat as pigs, and a mighty sight nicer, too."

"No, sir; I tell you we don't want anything but dry goods."

"Couldn't I sell you a nice fat shoulder of pork?"

"I tell you, sir, we deal in dry goods exclusively."

"Well, what will you give for good dried peaches?"

☞ We do have some smart children, and here is one of them. A religious society worshipping not many miles from the residence of the scribe thereof, decided to build a new church this season, and the pastor, among others, was chosen to solicit funds. He did his work very zealously, taking not only the widow's but the child's mites. Well, he has a class of children in the Sabbath school, and one Sunday, not long since, while instructing them, he compared himself to the Good Sheperd, and then inquired what the latter did with his flock. One bright-eyed little fellow promptly replied. "He shears them!" There was some smiling at that answer.

☞ In an old paper printed nearly a century ago we find the following on matrimony:

"Oh, Matrimony! thou art like

When a lass, was courted.

☞ "Did I understand you to say, sir, that you had a wife and six children living in New York, and that you had never seen one of them?"

"Yes, sir—I so stated."

"How can that be?"

"Why," was the responce, "one of them was born after I left."

☞ A Montana man has discovered that working bare-headed in the sun is an effective remedy for baldheads. HAY-AH-TA-KEE.—This celebrated troupe will give one of their grand and wonderful entertainments at the theatre in this place, this evening and also Monday evening. This is said by the press of the State, to be one of the most remarkable combinations of gymnasts, jugglers, and illusionists, that has ever visited the coast. Some of the tricks are said to be truly astounding. One of them, with a name about a yard long, amuses himself by spinning tops on the edge of a sword or on a string stretched across the room, he also makes a top run up a string stretched from the floor to the ceiling, and others perform equally strange and wonderful tricks. Especial mention is made by the papers of three little children of from six to eight years of age, who perform astonishing feats as acrobats and equilibrists.

DASHAWAYS.—A society of Dashaways was organized in this place on last Monday evening, with the following persons as charter members: James T. Mathewson, J. H. Redstone, Mrs. J. H. Redstone, Miss Dovie Redstone, A. E. Redstone, Rev. J. E. Benton, Mrs. M. B. Benton, Rev. A. C. Hazard, A. Shaw, I. T. Coffin, John F. Staples, C. A. Heaton. The following gentlemen were elected officers: President, J. T. Mathewson; Vice President, Rev. A. C. Hazard; Secretary, C. A Heaton; Treasurer, J. H. Redstone. The society will meet next Tuesday evening at the Theatre, and we learn quite a number of new members will be added.

THE Festival given by the ladies of the Union Church, on last Tuesday evening was quite well attended, and the tables were freely patronized. The amount received from the various tables, we have been unable to learn as yet.

Since the above was in type we learn that the gross receipts of the evening was $123; expenses $16.

THE meeting of the Dashaways has been postponed until Tuesday evening, after the business of the society, the young people will have a social dance tea and coffee will be served by the ladies, thus giving the gentlemen on opportunity to quench their thurst, without going down to the saloon, after the fatigue of the dance.

WE desire to call attention to the advertisement of Mr. S. S. Noble, of Gold Run. You no longer need to say:

"Would some power the giftie gie us,
To see ourselves as others see us."

For all you will have to do is to call on the gentleman mentioned and he will accommodate you.

You are also requested to examine the card of Mr. W. L. Munson. He has a splendid assortment of books and stationery.

CHAS. SCOTT, alias McNeal, the man who stole the horses at Alta last week, was arrested at Coburn's, Nevada county, on the 12th inst., on a charge of assault and battery, and having arranged that little matter, has been brought here to answer the charge of horse stealing.

OUR thrifty little neighbor, Gold Run, has a council of Freedoms Defenders, with a membership of nearly one hundred and fifty; many who were formerly Rebel Democrats have been brought within its folds.

THE citizens of Gold Run hold an election on the 4th of August, to consider the propriety of raising $700 by taxation for the purpose of building an addition to their School house.

THE Stars and Stripes comes at us with a dirty fling for the neglect of a compositor in this office to place the credit to an article copied from that journal. If that sheet had held its tongue till this issue, it would have got the proper credit with interest. We hope, however, it will profit by experience.

NOTWITHSTANDING the statement made by some of the organs of the party that the nominations of Seymour and Blair, were received by the Democratic party, with out-bursts of applause and wild enthusiasm; we find that Seymour and Blair are bitter pills, Montgomery, of the California Express goes after the nominations heavy, in days after saying what would have been the  effect of Pendeltons nomination:

The Convention has decided otherwise, and although we question its sagacity, Democrats must bow to its edict. Contrary to expectations Horatio Seymour, ex-Governor of New York, is placed in the field as the Presidential candidate and the Democrats are called upon to battle for his success. The political position of Mr. Seymour, during the war was a peculiar one, and his action while Governor showed, if there could be such a thing, that he was a sort of peace and war Democrat at the same time—a combination of opposite extremes. The war and conservative element of the country, now disgusted with radical rule, should be able to vote for Mr. Seymour without wincing, the nomination being a concession to that element.

The San Jose Patriot quotes an article from the Call in regard to the nominations and says:

We have not much heart to say a word about the nominations, and so take the foregoing from the Call, as presenting all that can be said, and a little more than we can truthfully say in favor of the nomination of Seymour. All parties, and all men of all parties, in and around San Jose, were taken by surprise upon the announcement of the nominations, and we do not remember of any similar event being received in any community with such chilling coldness as this. Nobody seemed to approve of the nominations—no one liked the ticket.

The Patriot refuses to hoist the ticket, and the San Francisco Examiner refuses to hoist the name of Blair, "at all, at all." The felicity of the Democratic party at present is remarkable.

MORE CONSISTENCY.

The very wise and witty genius of the Grass Valley National, who claims that Congress "forces negro suffrage where they have the power!" could not reply to our strictures of last week, without giving the lie to his own assertion. For, after two or three inane questions, intended as terr ble clinchers of his assertion, he adds, "Congress does nothing of the kind in the Northern States, because it dares not." By the use of the word dares, conceding the power while denying the courage. But too feeble to comprehend the meanings of the words force and power, he flounders in the mire again in his next sentence. "Where it has the power it uses force, where it has not the power it temporizes." The difficulty with the young giant of the National is, that he has devoted too much time to the study of weapons peculiarly Democratic, to become acquainted with the Republican weapons, logic and words. Congress has never used force. Grant, was rather forcible in his time, and so was Sherman, but since Lee's surrender force has slept, save when some Democratic row or crime has called it forth. Congress has had power to keep representatives from the rebel States outside of its sacred precincts.

That power it has not scrupled to exert till security for the future was obtained. One means was loyal suffrage. That excludes traitors and admits negroes, but forces nobody. The chivs went out of the Union the more thoroughly to trample upon the negro and it is simple, poetic justice that the negro now quietly "totes" them back in again. But there is no force at all, the rebels played that game fully out. Congres has said let the men who like this government come into it, to stay. That is the whole of it, no force. But a moment now about the North.—There is a doubt in the mind of some whether Congress has power to regulate suffrage in the States not in the rebelion. And this is the reason why Congress has not moved in the matter. So, Congress and the Chicago Convention favor negro suffrage in the States lately in rebelion, chiefly as a political necessity to prevent another resort to force by the conquered traitors. And they leave the matter of negro suffrage in the organized States to the present voting people of those States—not because they dare not touch the question but because they need not, it is not of sufficient importance and is not a question at issue in this canvas..

The rebel sympathizers at the North are the last men to talk of inconsistency. Wade Hampton is is in favor of negro suffrage, with certain qualifications, and so are most of the Southern Democracy. They know well that unless they can secure part of the negro vote there is no hope for Democracy in the South. And if none in the South then none at the North nor in the nation. So while the played out chivs and their dupes in the North revel in the passions incident to ignorance and prejudice, continuously howling about the negro, the less they say of Republican consistency the better for the inconsistent Democracy.

We are willing, however, to concede that this party is consistent in some things. It has been unwavering in its endeavors to destroy the nation; to pervert justice; to trample down the poor and build up the rich; they have been true to their natural instincts in robbing the public treasuries whenever an opportunity offered; in creating dissensions; in opposing popular education; and, in fact, in everything low, debasing, and dishonorable. The Republican party has been consistent in its opposition to Democratic errors; true is all things noble, pure, and equitable.

WE judge a nation by the character of its leaders; a party, by its record, and mouthpieces. Cromwell represents in his whole career puritan England of the seventeenth century. in Danton, Robespierre, Murat, and their associates, we find a reflex of revolutionary France, revelling in its terrible saturnalia of crime. Washington, Adams, and Franklin are only sublime types of the simplicity and purity which characterized the American people in the first and noblest era of the Republic. Adopting this standard, what opinion must we form of a party whose mouth-pieces are such men as the Rebel Generals, Hampton, and Forest, Valandingham of Ohio, and other noted advocates of the Southern Rebellion; men whose hands, have never been free from political trickistry since they first came into public notice? What must we think of a party who acknowledge such men as John Morrisey, a noted blackleg and pugilist, as one of their leaders, and send him to Congress? Must we regard them as the intelligent, just, and proper party to support? To be sure not. We do not want the intimation to go out to the world that although the loyal men conq uered the rebe hosts they were wrong. Such implications must certainly be cast upon them if they permit the Democratic party to conquer in this contest. The intelligent world would say, were the rebel element to triumph, that, indeed, must be a corrupt nation judging from the character of the predominating element, and then would our good name abroad be forever blasted.

THE Placer Herald has turned out to be an illustrated paper, or at least so we should judge, for we noticed at the head of its columns last week, a picture, by its "special artist," we suppose, of Nasby, Bascom, Gavitt, and the rest of the residents of the Corners, out training to cheer for the nomination of the New York Convetion. Nasby is represented holding a flag, while his cohorts are represented as defiling in rows on each side of him. We advise the Herald to represent next time, Seymour and the Democratic platform—a rooster with his tail feathers plucked out, an ass' head, cloven feet, and a buzzard's body, let him wear his own wings and spurs in order to give it a name.

LARGE BUSINESS.—Few persons are aware of the immense number of sewing machines sold in the present day, and probably in no other part of the world are so many sold in propotion to the number of the inhabitants as on this coast. The largest sales by any one agency in San Francisco, in the year ending May 1st, 1868 as we learn from the returns at the Internal Revenue Office, is The Florence, which amounts to the grand total of one hundred and twenty thousand dollars.

SOME of the Democratic papers and orators are apologizing for the appearance of Frank Blair on their ticket, by saying that though he is a General, he is not much of a one. They will need to appologize for the Blair family before the canvass is over. That family was the pest of the Lincoln administration, and Montgomery Blair made more mischief and hubbub in the cabinet when he was in it than all the Radicals put together. He told tales and tattled back and forth, like an old gossip, and kept Mr. Lincoln in hot water pretty much all the time. He was finally got rid of, and the Blair caravan went over to the Democracy, bag and baggage, where it is to be fervently hoped they will stay. Frank P. Blair got into the House of Representatives long enough to raise a hornet's nest about the ears of Secretary Chase, and make every one of the Missouri delegation in the House especially uncomfortable, as he and they had a quarrel on their hands from the day he claimed his seat until he went out. The Blair family are good fighters and hang well together, showing firstrate pluck, but they are an office-seeking, cold-blooded, quarrelsome, pestiferous set and if Frank's nomination as Vice President shall insure his future adhesion to the Democratic party, the New York Convention will not have been without its blessings on the race.—Alta.

WE have received from Messrs. Roman & Co., a copy of their new publication, the Pacific Medical Journal, the first number of which contains many valuable and interesting essays. We wish it success.

IT IS NOT RIGHT.—Under this head, the Mendocino Herald says:

We submit that the practice of publishing calls for political meetings and conventions, in city papers as advertisements, is not right, while country papers are called upon to publish the same in their editorial columns, and that gratuitously. We contend that the country press does a large share of the work in a political camaign, and is as justly entitled to compensation for it as those papers published in the cities. We have expenses to meet as well as they, and it is but just that we receive pay in proportion to the labor perfoimed. Their system of "sponging" on country papers applies to all parties and ought to be discontinued.

We do not see that anybody is to blame for for the evil complained of, except the publishers of country papers themselves. If they follow the example of the city papers and demand payment for the use of their columns, they will be certain to receive it. Politicians will understand the power of the country press, and will always pay for its assistance when it cannot be had gratis. They have no more valid claim to gratuitous advertising than any other class of men.—Napa Register.

We came to the conclusion some time since that we would not publish any more pohtical advertisements, unless we were paid for them, and if the country press, generally, would adopt this plan, some of the gold which goes to build up city papers, would flow to them.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

We have received from the publishers the following new works:

Report of J. Ross Browne on the Mineral Resources of the States and Territories West of the Rocky Mountains, embracing a descriptive exhibit of the mines, agriculture, manufactures, commerce and miscellaneous resources of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and Alaska. San Francisco: H. H. Bancroft & Co.

This report forms a book of 674 pages of neatly printed matter, and is a work which should be found in every library. It is an elaborate compilation of facts and figures; grand and comprehensive in design, and truthful in its statements—a work not to be underrated. Mr. Commissioner Browne, had no simple, child's task in hand when preparing the statistics for this work, the material for which was gathered from such a vast extent of territory—nearly a thousand miles in length, and extending from Alaska to Lower California, and the people of this coast owe a debt to that gentleman for the able and faithful manner in which he has accomplished his work, and placed the resources of this region before the gaze of the world.

He was found by some farmers, some three days after the occurrence, about five miles below the bridge. He was a barber by trade, and has a brother residing in this plae, besides numerous relatives in his native country.

THE

EAGLE PIANO-FORTE CO.

950 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

The above company is composed of a number of practical and experienced Piano-Forte builders, sustained by abundant Capital, and whose especial object is to manufacture Piano-Fortes embracing.

Every modern Improvement of

REAL MERIT.

While other manufacturers embody their own special improvements in their instruments, they are deterred from using, the perhaps equally valuable improvements of others in regard to other portions of the instrument, by the often exorbitant royalties or fees demanded by the Patentees for the privilege, so that although we have frequently announcements of Pianos embracing every modern improvement, there are really none at present that do so. It is the determination of the EAGLE PIANO-FORTE CO., to disregard all considerations of expense in procuring the rights to use any and every improvement which has met the approval, and may be recommended to them by the leading Pianists of the day, such as the Abbe Listz, Thalberg, Gottschalk and others.

This Company has boldly embarked with the above purpose, confident that the American people are prepared to approve, appreciate, and sustain their effort to produce,

The most complete and best Piano-

FORTE IN THE WORLD,

While the expense of manufacturing will necessarily be increase by the purchase of these rights and privileges, it will not be permitted to increase the retail price of any of their instruments. The same style and finish of instruments will be sold as cheaply as those of any other good manufacturer.

Every department of the manufacturing being under the hands of a practical workman, who is at the same time a member of the Company and interested in its success and reputation, insures an exactness with regard to the character of the work that cannot otherwise be obtained.

The best recommendation for these Pianos lies in the fact that they are rapidly finding their way into the parlors of all the leading professional and amateur Pianists of the day in preference to all others.

Confident that their instruments will be their own best recommendation, the Eagle Piano-Forte Co., are anxious to effect the early introduction of one or more of their Pianos into every community, and to this end they offer

Extraordinary Inducements to

MUSIC TEACHERS AND OTHERS

Who may be able to aid them in their effort.

School Committees and others desiring instruments for Public Institutions will be offered special inducements.

Ladies and others having charge of Charitable Fairs, Festivals, &c., will be offered special inducements together with suggestions by which the proceeds of their benevolent offorts may be greatly increased; all such are especially invited to correspond with us.

Every instrument manufactured by the Eagle Piano-Forte Co., is made out of the very best and most suitable material selected from all parts of the world, most thoroughly seasoned and prepared, and warranted, in every respect for five years, as to material and workmanship, and to stand in any climate.

Orders promptly and carefully filled from the the large assortment always on hand.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

PREACHING at the Union Church to-morrow morning at the usual hours.

THERE will be preaching in the M. E. Church on Sunday at the usual hours, morning and evening.

[COMMUNICATED.]

TO THE CHILDREN AND YOUTH OF DUTCH FLAT.

DEAR YOUNG FRIENDS:—I would gladly pen some thoughts that would attract your attention, which, if possible, may incite you to more earnest seeking after truth, and greater diligence and perseverance in forming your characters.

Some of you are small and young in years—mere "buds of promise," demanding all the care and solicitude of kind and loving parents, to reveal to light the hidden beauties of "baby angels," immortal spirits, flowers of eternity, blooming in the desert sands of this sinful world; may you all be gathered to adorn the diadem of the Glorious Redemer. Others of you are in "childhood's careless and dependent" years, demanding all the skill and patience of wise parents and kind instructors, to train the young mind how to "shoot." Others of you are ripening into manhood and womanhood, with gilded hopes, and rosy tints of opening life, just entering upon the cares and stern duties of its responsibility. There is no more hopeful, no more interesting period of your life than the present; no time when those who watch over, love and pray for you, do so with so much solicitude, mingled with scarcely uttered hopes, and trembling fears—brimful of earnest longings, brilliant prospects, buoyant hopes, and we trust high and noble aspirations; motives, were they carried out, would elevate and bless the world. Fancy spreads out before you in fairy lines, and beautiful pictures, future happiness and success—a serene and flowing sky bend over you, colored with the tints of the rainbow and studded with gems of hope and glory—desire, intense and ardent, flows through every vein, giving life, health, beauty and perfection to your body. Let desire be healthy, high and noble, full of good purposes, plans, good deeds, and noble daring. "Dare to do right!" I like that motto. Always keep it in your heart, on your tongue, in your actions, at play, at work, in your study, at home, abroad day and night, and you will succeed. All looks beautiful to you; the world, how grand and glorious you see it in these "everlasting hills;" these mighty rocks that defy the rust of time, and laugh at the thunderbolts of heaven; which bare their bald heads to the howling tempests, winter's cold, and the scorching winds of summer. Within their hard bosoms are hidden the yellow shining dust, that taxes man's wisdom and strength to obtain. The veins of silver that are locked in chemical affinity, which are but faint representations of the hidden treasures and powers of your own nature. Your minds are like these rich mines of gold and silver, only open them and let the light in, "pan out" the shining and precious thoughts of good and truth from the "dirt" and error of sin. The golden thoughts and desires must be molded into coin, and circulated to bless the town, State, and world. We wish to have them stamped with truth, love liberty and goodness—carry them to the mint of God's Word and Spirit—let Him write His own name, seal and country upon them, they will then be prepared and fitted to circulate in both countries—Earth and Heaven—"I will put My seal upon them," "and they shall be Mine when I come to make up My Jewels."

Not only the world's grandeur, but its beauties are spread out before you with a bountiful hand, you see it in those grand and mighty trees on your right and left, with their beautiful forms ever pointing you up to that joyous world on high, ever to shine in the glorious light of God's eternal love; with the beauty of symetry of their lofty trunks, upright as the character in which we were created; God's stamp of holiness and perfection, when he pronounced us "very good" and to reinstate us in the symetry of "His dear son, who is the express image of His person" in their evergreen foliage; perpetual emblems of the soul's immortality, basking in the sun-rays of God's eternal light, and fanned by the breezes of heaven, bearing on its bosom the sweet fragrance of sweet flowers immortal, "which bloom in the gardens of God," never to wither but cultured by angel hands planted by the river of life, that flows by the Throne of God. Dear, young friends, then look at the beautiful, now in God's nature, and providence—See him in all your ways, in your plays, in your studies, in your plans for the future, in your callings. Hear his sweet voice in the gentle breeze that fans your brow, that bears the sweet fragrance of the jassamine and honeysuckle. In the songs of praise that bursts forth from happy and joyous hearts of youth; in the bounteous supplies for your spiritual nature, truth for your intellect and reason—God for your affection and love—Heavan for our home—angels and saints your present and future companions—and eternal life your reward. ASIATIC CHOLERA.

The strongest proof of intrinsic MERIT.

DEAR SIRS:—I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send me last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. The cholera appeared here soon after we received it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer, using as directed for cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native attendents assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be very indifferently received.

Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours. J. M. JOHNSON.

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism, it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sickand troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 549, Washington street, San Francisco.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine qua non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a goatleman who seeks, not by defamation of others to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

PAIN, no matter from what cause, is almost instantly cured by the Ready Relief. In cases of Cholera, Diarrhœa, Cramps, Spasms, Bilious Cholic, in fact all Pains, Aches and Infirmities either in the Stomach, Bowels, Bladder, Kidneys, or the Joints, Muscles, Arms, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Fever and Ague, Headache, Toothache, &c., will in a FEW MINUTES yield to the soothing influence of the Ready Relief.

Sudden Colds, Coughs, Influenza, Diptheria, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Chills, Fever and Ague, Mercurial Pains, Scarlet Fever, &c., &c., take from four to six of Radway's Pills, and also a teaspoonful of the Ready Relief in a glass of warm water, sweetened with sugar or honey; bathe the throat, head and chest with Ready Relief. (If Ague or Intermittent Fever, bathe the spine also.) In the morning you will be cured.

How the Ready Relief Acts.

In a few minutes the patient will feel a slight tingling irritation, and the skin becomes reddened; if there is much distress in the stomach, the Relief will assist nature in removing the offending cause.—a general warmth is felt throughout the entire body, and its diffusive stimulative properties rapidly courses through every vein and tissue of the system, arousing the slothful and partially paralyzed glands and organs to renewed and healthy action, perspiration follows, and the surface of the body feels increased heat. The sickness at stomach, colds, chills, headache, oppressed breathing, the soreness of the throat, and all pains, either internally or externally, rapidly subside, and the patient falls into a tranquil sleep, awakes refreshed, invigorated, cured.

It will be found that in using the Relief externally, either on the spine or across the kidneys, or over the stomach and bowels, that for several days a pleasing warmth will be felt, showing the length of time it continues its influence over the diseased parts.

TYPHOID FEVER.

This disease is not only cured by Dr. Radway's Relief and Pills, but prevented. If exposed to it, put one teaspoonful of Relief in a tumbler of water. Drink this before going out in the morning, and several times through the day. Take one of Radway's Pills one hour before dinner, and one on going to bed.

If seized with fever, take 4 to 6 of the Pills every six hours, until copious discharges from the bowels take place; also drink the Relief diluted with water, and bathe the entire surface of the body with Relief. Soon a powerful perspiration will take place, and you will feel a pleasant heat throughout the system. Keep on taking the Relief repeatedly, every four hours, also the Pills. A cure will be sure to follow. The Relief is strengthening, stimulating, soothing, and quieting; it is sure to break up the Fever and to neutralize the poison.

Let this treatement be followed and thousands will be saved. The same treatment will be followed in Fever and Ague, Yellow Fever, Ship Fever, Billious Fever, will effect a cure in 24 hours. When the patient feels the Relief irritating or heating the skin, a cure is positive. In all cases where pain is felt, the Relief should be used.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

THE MAIDEN'S PSALM OF LIFE.

Tell me not in idle jingle,
"Marriage is an empty dream!"
For the girl is dead that's single,
And girls are not what they seem.

Life is real! Life is earnest!
Single blessedness, a fib!
"Man thou art, to man returnest!"
Has been spoken of the rib.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
Is our destined end or way,
But to act that each to morrow
Finds us nearer marriage day.

Life is long and youth is fleeting,
And our hearts, though light and gay,
Still, like pleasant drums, are beating
Wedding marches on the way.

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
Be not like dumb driven cattle—
Be a heroine—a wife!

Trust no future, however pleasant;
Let the dead past bury its dead!
Act, act to the living present—
Heart within and hope ahead!

Lives of married folks reminds us
We can live our lives as well,
And departing leave behind us,
Such examples as shall "tell;"

Such examples that another,
Wasting time in idle sport—
A forlorn, unmarried brother—
Seeing, shall take heart and court.

Let us, then, be up and doing
With a heart on triumph set;
Still contriving, still persuing,
And each one a husband get!

A BEATEN politician stated as the reason for his defeat in a debate, that his opponent happened to state just that which he was not prepared to meet. "What was that?" inquired a friend. "The truth," was the reply, "nobody ever heard of a politician's telling the truth before."

SMART CHILD.—"Ma, didn't the minister say last Sunday that the sparks flew upward?"

"Yes, my dear; how came you to be thinking of it?"

"Because yesterday I saw cousin Sally's spark stagger along the street and fall downward."

"Here, Bridget, put this child to bed. She must be getting sleepy."

MEDICAL.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH!

Every Man His Own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

AND

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, flental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum,

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions on the Skin.

Arising from a bad state of the blood of chronic diseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles,	Sore Legs,
Burns,	Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Salt Rheum,	Sore Throats,
Gout	Scalds,	Sprains,
Stiff Joints,	Tetter,	Ulcers.
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases	Venereal Sores,
Sores of all kinds,	Mercurial Eruptions,
Swelled Glands,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water Mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers'

Jewelry Association

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German war, and recent disastrous financial crisis in Europe, has caused the failure of a large number of jewelry houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrafice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these bankrupt goods, at such extremely low prices that we can afford to send away finer goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar busindss. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than one dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend on having prompt returns, and the article drawn will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Urethr, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or the Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. [DR. KEYSER is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia.]

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

DEAR SIR:—In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about BUCHU, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such inedicate agent would be indicated.

You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgement, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as stated before, every form of BUCHU—the powdered leaves the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and with ut prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other proprietary compound of whatever name, or any other Buchu.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

DR. J. C, YOUNG, IN 1850,

For the cure of all Private Diseases and

ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,

SAN FRANCISCO,.....CALIFORNIA.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles its dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine, WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT Cures are Always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, or NO PAY REQUIRED, at the Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization, should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that he one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to this evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and beg the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

DR. JULIEN PERRAULT, Doctor of Medicine of the Faculty of Paris, Graduate of the University Queen's College, and Physician of the St. John Baptiste Society of San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT has pleasure to inform patients, and others seeking confidential medical advice, that he can be consulted daily at his office, Armory Hall Building, North-East corner Montgomery and Sacramento streets, San Francisco. Rooms No. 9, 10, 11, first floor, up stairs, entrance either Montgomery or Sacramen streets.

DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long after-ward; patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptons: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Uretha on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writign or the society of friends, etc. The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pain, bness of the body. Some of the most common symptons are pimples in the face and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to DR. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we fulfill our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures. Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief.

Female Monthly Pills.

DR. PERRAULT is the only agent in California for DR. BIOT'S Female Monthly Pills. Persons at a distance can be cured at home, by addressing a letter to Dr. PERRAULT, corner of Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 973, P. O., San Francisco, stating the case as minutely as possible general habits of living, occupation, etc., etc.
